'Art in the making'

Talented watercolour artist & valued TOTT Committee Member Christine Murphy was on hand to officiate at the opening of the TOTT's latest exhibition 'Art in the Making'.

Featuring a unique array of artisan items the exhibition also highlights the talents of many Artists who work from the shed.

In her opening address, Christine paid special tribute to this most diverse of buildings saying:

"Sheds can conjure up a variety of memories for us all. They may be a place of storage here in the hills of farm machinery, a winery, or a place for the 'stuff' that doesn't fit in the house, and where things get lost in amongst pieces of wire and old wood. Full of bits that are treasure to some and junk to others.

The display around you today, includes the work of many who use a shed as a location for artistic creations.

Just imagine the different shed clutter of all these creators.... Sawdust and wood shavings spread about, burn marks on clothes from hot spatters, or stains from paint and dyes, muddy clay marks, fingers in bandages from sharp tools and paper cuts.

Bins of 'special' items that will surely have a use one day. Paint tubes scrunched up, and the odd coffee cup here and there, with a music playing device squeezed in somewhere. This is the story of the shed creative refuge that culminates in what you see here. "

In addition to hosting art classes from her Birdwood home studio, Christine and her husband Michael also run a picture framing workshop. Enquiries welcome: murphymcj@gmail.com

AS THE SAYING GOES
'TIME FLIES
WHEN YOU ARE HAVING FUN'!

People talk about how time flies - it has become sort of a colloquialism - but it seems to me that time keeps going faster the older I get!

Already we are into April and our third exhibition for 2024 - 'Art in the Making'. It is a brilliant exhibition, so I hope you will find the time to check out the work of these talented artists.

Planning is well and truly under way with for next exhibition 'Silver Threads & Golden Needles' on display in May and June. Then it will be one of our feature exhibitions - our annual SALA exhibition 'Our Stories' in July and August.

An exhibition later in the year in which I have a particular interest - being a woodturner is - 'The Art of Wood'.

This exhibition will not only feature several 'woodies' with their 3D creations but also, the ART of wood! Yes, paintings and other wall art featuring our beautiful landscapes (maybe even with a tree or two!)

Myself together with Sam Kotz will be helping Annette Dawson put this exhibition together - so please contact me or Sam to find out more.

Remember time flies, this exhibition starts in September.

FORWARD PLANNING

As John has stated, time certainly is flying!

I have been reminded of this when both a Gallery member and an outside group approached me recently to book exhibition timeslots for our 2025 season!

At TOTT we have two dedicated member only exhibitions per year - Summer and SALA, plus an annual textile and jewellery display.

The other three exhibitions are open to anyone, individuals or groups, who would like to stage their own presentation.

A six week exhibition at Top of the Torrens Gallery is a rewarding (and very affordable), experience for artists, so with one exhibition slot now remaining for 2025, please give some thought to reserving a date.

If you wish to enquire or book please contact Annette ASAP via tottgallery@gmail.com

Individuals whose work can be teamed with complimenting artists and groups are welcome to enquire.

WIZARD OF METAL SCULPTURE

ADRIAN BEACHAM,

this time. in recognition of his piece "The Lookout" having won FIRST PRIZE in the Barossa Arts Festival Garden Sculpture Competition.

Up against some highly talented artists (including a category winner in the Brighton Jetty Sculptures), Adrian was understandingly super-excited to learn of his win.

Adrian's prizewinning work can be viewed at the Barossa Bush Gardens. The Barossa Arts Festival is now on and runs until the last weekend in April.

To plan your visit, see the full program later in this edition.

TOTT Members Jill Allanson & Joe Dennis are also participating in the festival. See their works at The Lord Lyndoch & The Gawler Community Gallery.

Sounds like a great way to spend an Autumn day out!

HELP SPREAD THE WORD!

It's nearly time to refresh and reprint our promotional brochure. So, to make way for the new, we need to get the remaining copies of our current brochure out & into the hands of potential visitors who are yet to experience all that the TOTT has to offer.

Please take a bundle with you next time you visit & distribute them throughout your network to help spread the word!

Artist of the month - March Ellen Wilden

Ellen has had a love for art all her life.

She likes to doodle and takes her art diary, pens and pencils wherever she goes and has a particular liking for working with charcoal, pastels and watercolour. Ellen attended a life drawing class when living in Victoria which she thoroughly enjoyed.

Ellen's husband Peter was in the Navy so they moved around a bit. In 1983 they moved to Adelaide and started a family which meant little time for art. In the late 90's she attended Para West Adult Campus to study life drawing and watercolour.

It wasn't until her retirement in 2019 that she started to take her art more seriously and joined Salisbury Art Society, going to weekly meetings with fellow Artists and taking part in a few exhibitions. In 2023 she became a member at Top of The Torrens Gallery and also became a volunteer in the Gallery & Gift Shop.

Ellen always likes to attempt new things... painting ice, raindrops, animals and really likes to draw hands and portraits. She has also done commission pieces, portraits, buildings, boats and African animals

What's new at The Art Gallery of SA?

The 18th Adelaide Biennial of Australian Art: Inner Sanctum: 1 March - 2 June 2024

This free exhibition opened in March as a vital component of the Adelaide Festival offering encounters with artists and poets across exhibitions, performances and talks that explore our engagement with the world and each other. The concept of an inner sanctum refers to the private or sacred spaces we create and the faculty of imagination that allows us to see culture and society differently.

The Adelaide Biennial remains the pre-eminent and longest-running survey of contemporary Australian art and is committed to supporting and celebrating innovative and ambitious practices. The 2024 Biennial, curated by José Da Silva, is reflective and hopeful, designed to enliven the social imagination and help us understand the complexities of the human experience. It features new works by Clara Adolphs, James Barth, Christopher Bassi, Seth Birchall, Kaye Brown, Jacobus Capone, George Cooley, Ali Cobby Eckermann, Lawrence English, Ruha Fifita, Teelah George, Paul Knight, Kate Llewellyn x Adelaide Chamber Singers, Jessica Loughlin, Peter Maloney, Jazz Money, Lillian O'Neil, Nik Pantazopoulos, Khaled Sabsabi, Marikit Santiago, Vivienne Shark LeWitt, Tina Stefanou, Heather B. Swann and Jasmine Togo-Brisby.

Some highlights for me have been:

- Proximities by sound artist Lawrence English who, in collaboration with bellfounder Anton Hassell, has made a new bell to connect with other bells in Adelaide as a 'city of bells'. He invites us to consider our understanding of place and the body by drawing attention to our ears.
- The enormous triptych of the Kanku-Breakaways by George Cooley which spans the entrance wall to the Gallery. Its stunning colours are inspired by the outback and the beauty of opal.
- Solari 2024, by Jessica Loughlin, a magnificent cloudy-white kiln glass window built into the wall of Gallery 10 which changes with the light of day.
- Ruha Fifita's enormous painted bark-cloth tapestry or ngatu which draws on her Tongan and Welsh heritage.
- Christopher Bassi's Meeting a Mangrove, 2024 – a very large, very vibrant painting featuring his body, mangroves and his totem, the mangrove seed pod.
- Jacobus Capone's Forewarning, Act 1 2023 which draws our attention to the effects of global warming. It's a three-channel HD synchronised video set on the Larsbreen glacier on the Svalbard archipelago halfway between Norway's mainland and the North Pole.
- Teelah George's Sky piece project which maps the colour of the sky through large-scale embroideries and needlework on linen offcuts.

So make some time over the coming months to visit, relax and reflect on this amazing exhibition.

The Art Gallery of South Australia is open daily at 10am to 5pm with a free guided tour of the Biennial at 2pm starting at the Atrium (next to the café on Level 1).

The 18th Adelaide Biennial of Australian Art has been presented in association with the Adelaide Festival, and with generous support received from the Art Gallery of South Australia Biennial Ambassadors Program and Principal Donor The Balnaves Foundation. The project has been assisted by the Australian Government through Creative Australia, its principal arts investment and advisory body and by the Visual Arts and Craft Strategy, an initiative of the Australian, State and Territory Governments.

Many thanks to Ann Davenport
